Operations | Taylor Swinney

Research Analyst

Taylor supports Brill Neumann's principals and consultants by providing in-depth research on the full range of academic and finance and administration searches as well as by supporting the firm's operations. Before joining the Brill Neumann, Taylor was the Logistics Coordinator at Boston University's Community Service Center and the Coordinator of the Hike for Hunger. He also served as intern for the Cross Border Group's investor relations magazine.

Taylor holds a B.A. in Economics and International Relations from Boston University and spent time in educational programs in London and Quito. Taylor enjoys skiing, hiking, running, cooking, and travel.
